SHASTA COUNTY CLERK/REGISTRAR OF VOTERS

December 2016

Post Election Day

Thank you for serving at the polls on Election Day. You are an indispensable channel between the Shasta County Clerk/Registrar of Voters and the voting public. In November, we had 102,148 registered voters and 81% turnout to vote. It was a very busy election and most of the poll sites had lines before the polls opened. Thank you for your dedication, cooperation and professionalism. It was amazing to see so many great citizens who care about our community and our democracy to give 15+ hours to help ensure the rest of our community can vote. I was inspired by the many poll workers who attended more than one class, stayed after class to train on the voting machine, read emails, newsletters and took practice quizzes. You rock!

High school students

Shout out to our amazing 42 high school students! Many veteran inspectors requested high school students to be on their team. High school students are typically motivated, bright and strong. This proved to be true at the poll site during the General Election.

ROVERS

Double shout out to the ROVERS! Registrar of voter's emergency response specialist (ROVERS) are dedicated group of men and women who provide quality control and assist the poll workers throughout Election Day.

Stand-by poll workers

An important group of poll workers ready to serve at the polls on a moments notice. Thank you for your flexibility, patience and faithfulness.

New citizens

We had three new citizen's participate in the November election process. They were so excited to attend the training classes and very proud to serve on Election Day. Thank you poll workers for making them feel welcome.

WASHINGTON D.C. – November 21, 2016

According to a new national survey conducted by the Democracy Fund in the days following the election, 85 percent of voters say they had a pleasant experience on November 8th, including overwhelming majorities of voters who supported either President-elect Donald Trump or Secretary Hillary Clinton.

“Despite rhetoric about potential widespread election rigging or hacking, local election officials successfully ensured that ballots were securely cast and accurately counted. Their efforts are clearly reflected in a positive voter experience and the fact that no significant improprieties have yet come to light in canvasses or audits,” said Adam Ambrogi, Elections Program Director, Democracy Fund. “Even if your candidate did not win, Americans can take pride in our decentralized, transparent, and secure election system.”
