Representative in Congress, District 1

Doug LaMalfa

Occupation: Farmer/Member, United States House of Representatives Age: 59

Northern California has shown its strength through major disasters and near misses. Decades of poor forest management, plus misguided federal and state policies have hurt us and our electricity grid. But, in these tough times our citizens came together to support each other in crisis and recovery.

I've worked across party lines to ensure the full support of the federal government to support post-Camp and Carr fires, with nearly $3 billion in recovery efforts for firefighting, infrastructure restoration, home site cleaning, and census restructuring that brought additional aid. With all of the divisions in Washington, I've kept the focus on our recovery and working to prevent future catastrophic wildfires.

I passed a law to speed up the bureaucratic delays to clear near power lines. It's ridiculous that our power is cut when the wind blows because utilities have neglected, or been delayed, from working to harden the grid. This work must be expedited so Northern California can be fire-safe, thereby making insurance available and affordable again. We must stop the hardships of power outages. California should be leading, not acting like a third world country.

I will continue to bring common sense to government including reducing out of control regulations that stifle our way of life. We must bring jobs and opportunities home, thin our overgrown forests to improve the economy, the environment and prevent wildfire, while delivering on the promise of more Northern California water. I'd be honored to receive your vote.

Representative in Congress, District 1

Audrey Denney

Occupation: Agricultural Educator

I am running for Congress with a single vision in mind: to make our government work more effectively to improve the lives of the residents of California's 1st District. The issues that concern you—that affect your day-to-day well-being—are the foundation of my campaign.

When you send me to Washington, DC, every decision I make will be focused on the people who call this region home. I will not be controlled by special-interest groups or political machines. I will not accept corporate PAC money. I will carry with me and embrace our shared North State values and vision, and I will act with integrity in service to our communities. I will fight to make sure that the needs of all are met, because you deserve a leader who truly represents you.

My priorities include building a strong rural healthcare system. Ensuring opportunities in career and technical education. Protecting benefits for seniors and veterans. And doing everything humanly possible to safeguard our communities against wildfires.

I believe in a country where we are not defined as Republicans or Democrats, but as Americans. Where people are more important than politics. Where everyone—regardless of skin color, wealth, or beliefs—is respected as inherently equal.

This is our country. This is our district. And our voices are as important as any in the nation. As your representative, I will do everything in my power to ensure that they are heard.
