

Name: Brian Dahle
Occupation: Farmer/Businessowner/Senator
Age: 55

Repairing our damaged economy, tackling the COVID-19 health crisis and returning lives to normal is how we move California forward.

I am a small business owner and farmer who is working to rebuild our economy.

Protecting local jobs, keeping small businesses afloat, retraining unemployed workers, and ensuring our farms have enough is essential a stronger economy.

I'm also working hard to ensure legislators and the Governor understand the unique problems facing Shasta County so we craft solutions that work for us.

By working across party lines, I helped save lives by improving the state's health care response to COVID-19, provided masks to essential workers and expanded hospital space.

I stood up to the special interests to make health care more affordable by passing bipartisan legislation to end the gouging of hospital patients with surprise out-of-network bills, improved preventative care and made pharmaceutical companies more accountable for rising drug prices.

Defeating $29 billion in new taxes, protecting Prop 13 and keeping property taxes down helped keep more money in your pockets during these tough times.

I held agencies accountable for wildfire and increased funding to prevent more deadly Shasta County wildfires.

My record has earned me 100% ratings from the California Police Chiefs Association and the California Taxpayers Association.

As your Senator, I'll continue fighting to make Shasta County safer and healthier while rebuilding our economy.
