The pandemic has impacted us in unimaginable ways. Redding's challenges – homelessness, crime, drug/alcohol addiction, lack of jobs – are now magnified by Covid-19.

Make no mistake – we will recover. We will move forward, together.

I was born/raised in Redding. I moved to Reno in 1981 to work in the casino industry, and in 1989, became a Reno Police Officer. While full-time on the force, I earned a Bachelor's Degree in Criminal Justice and a Master's Degree in Social Work. Furthermore, I met my wife, Vanessa, and we have two sons.

I retired and moved home to Redding in 2010.

I'm running for City Council to make a difference. Redding's economy, housing and jobs have declined for years – while homelessness, crime and drug/alcohol abuse have increased. We either live in the past – or we choose a way forward that leads to a future of hope.

Answers lie in an aggressive expansion of housing, employment that includes all skill sets and salaries, accountability for criminals, and competent fiscal planning.

I would be honored to bring my extensive governmental, social services experience to Redding's City Council, and to represent you.
